THOMSON TAX & ACCOUNTING'S ULTRATAX CS IS FIRST TO RECEIVE APPROVAL FOR OREGON 1120 ELECTRONIC FILING

Dexter, MI, January 25, 2008 – Thomson Tax & Accounting, a business segment of The Thomson Corporation (NYSE: TOC; TSX: TOC), announced today that the company's UltraTax CS product was the first to receive approval by the Oregon Department of Revenue for 1120 electronic filing for the current filing season.

"This is another example of our commitment to best serve our customers through technology leadership," said Teresa Mackintosh, CPA.CITP, Senior Vice President, Professional Software & Services, Thomson Tax & Accounting. "We were pleased to be the first to receive approval from the state of Oregon and offer electronic filing for 1120 returns."

Over the last few years, Thomson Tax & Accounting has received significant recognition for leadership in the area of electronic filing. In 2005, approximately 50% of electronically filed business returns were processed and e-filed using UltraTax CS. The company was also selected as the exclusive provider of electronic filing for the Regional Income Tax Agency of Ohio (RITA) for 2005 returns. In 2007, the company was the first to receive approval from California state officials for 1065 electronic filing.

"We continue to offer new products to the profession that help our users streamline their tax processing. As a result, we are the first provider approved for 1120 electronic filing in the state of Oregon," stated Mackintosh.
