This user bulletin describes changes made for this release of AdvanceFlow™.

CHANGES

Important! We recommend that you update your AdvanceFlow Client Add-in to take full advantage of this update. However, if you do not update the add-in right away, it will not negatively affect any current functionality.

We have addressed the following issues.

- In certain circumstances, the roll forward process prevented Microsoft® Word recalculating formula data in some documents when AdvanceFlow was in Edit mode.
- The Days Remaining field on the Status tab of the selected engagement did not populate.
- The AdvanceFlow Client Add-in (v. 18.3) prevented the application from saving local Microsoft Excel® workbooks when closing the spreadsheet.
- When recalculating data for a custom Excel spreadsheet, in certain circumstances account groupings for the Leadsheet Schedule switched to those for Account Classification.
- When adding a custom Excel workpaper that uses special characters in the division codes, Excel displayed a blank, gray screen instead of opening the spreadsheet.
